

Dear INPS member,

Next Thursday, May 2, 2019 begins the “Idaho Gives” campaign. This is a funding drive dedicated to raise money for Idaho-based non-profit organizations. The Idaho Native Plant Society participating in this funding drive to raise funds for native plant research and education projects.

We ask you to participate in the drive by contributing to INPS (or any other non-profit organization you choose) and encourage other people you know to do the same.

Our organization is dedicated to promoting interest in native plants and plant communities and collecting and sharing information on all phases of the botany of native plants in Idaho. We seek to foster an understanding and appreciation of our native flora and to preserve this rich heritage for future generations. “Idaho Gives” is a great way for us to complete our mission as an organizations of plant enthusiasts.

Any amount of giving will help fund the purchase of native seeds, research needs such as travel and campground fees, all the way up to funding an entire research project. Funds raised will also help to fund publication of the quarterly newsletter, Sage Notes.

Thank you in advance for your participation in the nonprofit giving day.

Sincerely,
Stephen Love
INPS President
